Broadening Of Unemployment Insurance Act Urged

SENATE WILL ACT ON OIL BILL FRIDAY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 8.—(UP)—Broadening of the state unemployment insurance act to include all industrial employers who hire one or more persons was proposed today as a means of extending the unemployment aid law to an additional 1,500,000 employees.

The proposed new act also would be made to stand by itself in event the federal unemployment reserves law was declared unconstitutional. Under present provisions, continuation of the state act is dependent upon legality of the national law setting up reserves to help relieve future unemployment.

As originally adopted two years ago, the state reserves act was applied only to employers to eight or more persons, not including agricultural and domestic workers. Small merchants and industrial firms were exempt and their employees, therefore, could not receive any benefits under the law.

The new proposal would reach nearly every employer and employee except those in agricultural and domestic fields.

The assembly unemployment committee voted "do pass" recommendations to two bills providing for the changes.

The senate agreed to devote its Friday meeting to repeating a debate on tideland oil drilling. Senator Ralph E. Swing's bill to limit development of the Huntington Beach tideland oil pool to slant drilling from the uplands was set as a special order of business at 11 a. m. It was expected Senator Culbert L. Olson's bill to permit pier or island drilling would be considered at the same time.

A bill proposing the creation of a $5,000,000 revolving fund to capitalize self-help co-operatives remained in the assembly unemployment committee after a long discussion during which several amendments were offered. Indications were the appropriation measure may be approved next week and sent to the floor for action.

The upper house passed Senator Walter McGovern's anti-ambulance chasing bill, which would make unlawful the direct or indirect solicitation of personal injury claims.

Man Lucky S.A. Without Whipping Post

If Orange county had a whipping post, Walter Handley, 72½ East Walnut, would be the first subject for punishment there. Take it from Judge Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana justice court.

Handley, who assertedly battered the face and body of O. K. Forgy, local summons server, when Forgy served a summons upon Handley Monday, was sent to jail for a straight six months term.

"If that cannon out there on the courthouse lawn were a whipping post and whipping posts were legal here, I'd make you the first subject of punishment there," Judge Morrison told Handley. Handley admitted striking Forgy because he didn't like to be summoned.

FLOOD PLAN WILL WAIT U. S. ACTION

Recent reports that Orange county's $13,000,000 flood control and water conservation project had been given the "hurry up" signal by the federal government were denied today by Maj. Theo. Wyman jr., district army engineer, who has just returned from Washington, D. C.

Wyman Issues Denial

Major Wyman was called to Washington to appear before legislative committees on behalf of the Orange and Los Angeles counties' flood control programs. He reached Los Angeles yesterday and, contacted by The Register, issued, through an official spokesman, a denial that the "hurry up" signal had been given the Orange county project.

Major Wyman declined to make a personal statement but referred questioners to an "official spokesman," who said that the status of the Orange county project will not be known until the fiscal year ends June 30.

The spokesman was authorized by Major Wyman to say that the matter of whether or not the federal government would give aid to the county project has not yet been decided.

In Hands of Congress

The entire matter, according to the spokesman for the army engineering corps, is in the hands of congress under a general flood control program including Los Angeles and Orange counties. Whether the program will be approved as submitted or will be reworked will not be known until sometime in July was the indication.

The county had asked for federal aid on the $13,000,000 project which has been twice defeated at bond elections and has been tentatively informed that the federal aid can be extended the county must approve a bond issue of approximately $3,000,000 for the obtaining of right-of-way and acquiring of property necessary to completion of the project.

Army engineers to whom the plan was referred, however, have endorsed the project and recommended its inclusion in the two-county program.

COURT PLAN HELD DANGEROUS

The proposed supreme court reorganization is dangerous, Economist and Writer John T. Flynn told the senate judiciary committee as this picture was made. Flynn argued that to attain a present objective, however laudable, a long chance is being taken that in future the same course may lead to concentration of power along the lines of the European "totalitarian state." NRA-type laws, made possible by changing the personnel of the court, have this "totalitarian" tendency, Flynn suggested.

SLEEPER WINS EXPENSE TILT

County Assessor James Sleeper today had won his tilt with Supervisor Steele Finley, who questioned legality of Sleeper's $300 yearly allowance for traveling expense.

After Finley held up approval of Sleeper's claim for a $35 installment of the allowance, on the ground that it was the equivalent to a raise of salary, Sleeper appeared and quoted the law to the supervisors, showing that the county government act provides the allowance. Sleeper's demand then was approved.

The assessor was aroused by the questioning of his claim, which has been regularly allowed for years. He indicated that his traveling expense allowance were among the lowest of any department, as the records would show.

"Even the dog catcher gets nearly as much traveling allowance as I do," he said, with appropriate trimmings.

An inspection of the records did bear Sleeper out. The last statistical report showed that the supervisors drew $1811.10, or an average of more for each one than Sleeper draws. Various other departments draw up to $897.60 per year, very few being as little as the assessor's allowance. His field deputies traveling all over the county every year, do not get traveling expenses, Sleeper pointed out.

The records also show that the supervisors, through their flood control department, approved $4096.72 in claims for traveling emmissaries, consulting engineers and Washington representatives, since they took office January 1. This does not include appraisers for the flood control project.

Total mileage allowance for the county during the last fiscal year, exclusive of investments in automobiles, was $37,389.53. Sleeper figured he got a very small part of that.

JUDGE'S BILL GETS APPROVAL

Judge James L. Allen's bill for new light fixtures in his courtroom, which the county supervisors refused to approve, was taken out of the board's hands by the judge today, and certified directly to the county auditor and county treasurer, where it was paid, with approval of District Attorney W. F. Menton.

Check-Rain Tossed Aside

The county supervisors found their check-rop in upon the department tossed aside today, as Judge Allen produced a supreme court decision, upholding the statute which authorized a judge to personally authorize a judge to personally authorize necessary equipment for his courtroom, when the supervisors fail to grant such request.

In Judge Allen's case, the sheriff was ordered to have new light fixtures installed, and complied with the order, the fixtures being installed by the Cope Electric company, of Santa Ana, which then filed a bill for $174.90 for the job. Judge Allen approved the claim and passed it along to the supervisors. Supervisor Steele Finley, court-house committee man, and other members of the board objected to the claim and refused to okay it on the ground that the matter had never been taken up by the board and authorized.

Different Picture

Judge Allen today presented a different picture of the matter. He had requested the light fixtures of the purchasing department, after finding the lights of the courtroom so poor that it was impossible to read documents in evidence, without carrying them to the windows. The court, attorneys and jurors had such difficulty.

The purchasing department informed him that Supervisor Finley would be consulted, but after some delay, Judge Allen made inquiry and Finley had not been seen, he stated. After another wait, he proceeded to order the equipment himself.

Demand Approved

After the supervisors had refused payment of the claim, an opinion was asked of the district attorney regarding it, but Finley had meanwhile lost the demand, so another was prepared. It was understood he lost that one, also, so today Judge Allen received a third demand, from Cope, and certified it directly to the auditor and treasurer, with the district attorney's okay on it.

TAKE BODIES FROM PLANE IN ARIZONA

McNARY, Ariz., April 8.—(UP)—Undertakers' assistants early today started the heart-breaking task of bringing back here the bodies of eight persons who perished when a luxury Douglas transport crashed into a canyon side near here.

2 Bodies Thrown Clear

Two of the bodies, those of Pilot Glen Moser and Co-Pilot Joe Wulfolk, both of Santa Monica, Cal., were thrown clear when the plane struck with terrific force into the mountainside. Inside the charred fuselage were the other bodies, so badly burned that only one may be identified.

While only eight persons were supposed to be aboard the plane when it left Burbank, Cal., last Saturday to be flown to New York for delivery to the Dutch K.L.M. airlines, the undertakers' men said there was more burned flesh in the cabin than would be provided by only six bodies. They estimated the cabin had eight persons in it when the plane hurtled into the canyon side.

Report Others Aboard

An unofficial and unconfirmed report here was that the big transport stopped after it left Burbank to pick up two additional persons. It was not known who they were or where they were picked up, if the report is true.

Lee Taylor of the Douglas Aircraft company, said, however, it was definite that only eight were aboard the ship.

The airliner, lost in a blizzard, crumpled against a mountain side while flying blindly at approximately 200 miles an hour Saturday.

S. A. TRAVELER

Charles H. White, who has traveled a total of 89,280 miles during the 31 years he has been carrying the mail in Santa Ana.

CARRIES MAIL HERE 31 YEARS

BY MASON YOULD

Thirty-one years ago Charles H. White started walking the streets of Santa Ana.

Today Charles H. White is still walking the streets of Santa Ana and in fact during the score and a half years Charles H. White has been walking the streets of Santa Ana he has traveled a distance of 89,280 miles, or three and one-half times around the world.

Oldest Carrier in Service

That's plenty of miles but walking is Charlie White's business. He's the oldest carrier in the Santa Ana post office in years of service.

White, who is only 51 years of age, has seen Santa Ana grow from a small town into a city. He probably knows more business men in Santa Ana than any other individual, for his route is the downtown business district and he makes the trip three times daily.

White has been in the postal service more than 31 years, but about a year and a half was spent in the office as a clerk. He has walked 288 days a year and covered an average of 10 miles a day for the 31 years. Some years he only traveled eight miles a day and some years he averaged 13 miles.

Streets Seas of Mud

When Charlie White started in as an employee of the post office he worked from 6 in the morning until 9 o'clock at night. Today he works from 6:30 in the morning until 3:30 p. m. In those early days White says there were no sidewalks and the streets were seas of mud after rains. All this work was done for a salary of $600 a year, contrasted with the top salary for a carrier of $2100 today.

In those early days, White said, the postal workers were not allowed to organize and should the men be caught in a clandestine meeting they were all subject to dismissal from the service.

"But we held our meetings, just the same," grinned White.

FORD READY FOR BATTLE WITH UNION

OSHAWA, Ont., April 8.—(UP)—The main assembly plant of General Motors of Canada was shut down today by a walkout of approximately 3700 workers marking the first effort of the United Automobile Workers' union to obtain recognition in Canada.

Possibility of repercussions in the United States was seen when Hugh Thompson, organizer of the U. A. W. here, declared that if General Motors of Canada brings "even one car" across the border during the strike, the union will call another walkout of all General Motors plants in the United States.

Union leaders here said the strike was ordered by Homer Martin, international president of the union. "I said he told them to 'quit fooling' in their negotiations for recognition of the union on the same basis as was provided in the recent settlement with General Motors in the United States.

Martin was in Lansing, Mich., this morning, but Thompson said Martin was expected to fly here this afternoon.

"Such action by General Motors may, however, result in closing of the Detroit plant, again," he added.

The strike involved all the General Motors employees here except 300 nonunion workers in the machinery department and an equal number of office workers.

CANADIAN OFFICERS TO ENFORCE LAWS

TORONTO, Ont., April 8.—(UP)—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn is prepared to use the full resources of the Ontario government to protect operations of General Motors of Canada if the company decides to reopen its Oshawa plants, which were closed by a strike of 3700 employees.

HERSHEY FIGHT QUIZ ORDERED

HERSHEY, Pa., April 8.—(UP)—The Hershey Chocolate corporation resumed purchasing milk today from the farmers who evicted 300 sit-down strikers from the factory in a battle yesterday afternoon.

Company officials said the plant would be reopened within a few days.

Several thousand farmers, aroused because the strike had cut off a market for $10,000 worth of milk daily, marched on the plant yesterday afternoon. Armed with bricks, clubs and other weapons, they drove the strikers from the building.

Governor George H. Earle ordered an investigation to "fix responsibility." Twenty-five persons were in hospital.

William F. Murrie, president of the corporation, said full operations probably could not be resumed until Monday.

Earle declared in a formal statement: "The bloodshed at the Hershey plant was a disgrace to the commonwealth. The blame lies directly on the sheriff of the county, who said he did not need the assistance of the state police to maintain order.

"The state police will not be used to suppress union labor. Neither are they interested in the sit-down problem. They will prevent mob rule.

DISTRICT ACTS TO SAVE WATER

Directors of the Orange County Water district decided yesterday at a special meeting to connect pits and wells on property of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation district and adjoining property as a temporary move for conserving water that is now flowing down Santiago creek to the ocean.

Engineer Paul Bailey and Attorney A. W. Rutan were instructed at the same time to prepare plans and specifications for two wells to be sunk at a location to be chosen later as permanent units for conservation. Decision to use the existing wells and pits as emergency conservation units was reached following a report submitted by Directors W. C. Mauerhan and William Wallop, Frank H. Collins, president of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce, and Marion Flippen, rancher, members of a committee named to investigate possible locations for conservation pits or wells.

It was decided to use the wells already sunk as emergency units because permanent wells could not be sunk in time to handle the present flow of water through the creek.

Directors also authorized expenditure of $250 for filing a brief in the proposed rehearing, before the California supreme court of the suit brought by the Corona Pothill Lemon company against A. E. Lillibridge. In the former House revealed today, Sara, daughter of Mr. Roosevelt's 28-year-old son, James, was rushed to the hospital late Tuesday.

COMMUNIST PARTY ORDERS CLEAN-UP

MOSCOW, April 8.—(UP)—The Communist party today ordered a cleanup of trade unions in Soviet Russia from "top to bottom," starting a campaign against racketeers, criminals and bureaucrats.

The drive was directed against embezzlers, counter-revolutionaries and advocates of capitalism.

The party singled out the trade union social insurance systems and labor conditions. No details were furnished so far on labor conditions but on social insurance, the newspaper Pravda (The Truth) party organ, in an editorial said: "Possessing many billions in a budget for social insurance, the trade unions unpardonably have neglected this field, causing lack of responsibility, embezzlement and wrecking."

The cleanup of the trade unions is part of a campaign affecting every Soviet organization. The drive began after Joseph Stalin on March 3 told the party's central committee that conditions were intolerable in the Soviet Union where spies and bureaucrats were allowed to flourish as shown by recent trials of former leaders for conspiracy.

FARM PROGRAM GETS APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(UP)—The house agriculture committee late today approved the revised $195,000,000 administration farm tenancy, rural rehabilitation and submarginal land purchasing bill.

Formal approval was given after a tentative agreement had been reached at a morning session.

The committee formally approved, after a six weeks fight, a section calling for $50,000,000 annual loans by the secretary of agriculture to tenant farmers upon the basis of recommendations from county committees. The loans would aid in purchasing property.

The loans, with no restriction on the amount, would be repayable in 30 years at 3 per cent annual interest. This compromise differed sharply from the administration program which provided for government purchase of the land for the tenants, who could repay the loans in 40 years, while the federal government held title to the property.

Other features of the administration program, however, were unchanged. These provide for $75,000,000 loans annually to farmers for rehabilitation purposes and a four year $70,000,000 program for the purchase of submarginal lands by the department of agriculture.

STRIKE MEDIATOR ARRIVES IN S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—(UP)—Dr. W. E. Leiserson, national railway mediation board chairman, arrived here today to act as federal arbitrator in a threatened strike of 8000 trainmen employed by the Southern Pacific company.

Dr. Leiserson has arranged a series of conferences between union and railroad officials. Failing settlement of the issues, he could ask President Roosevelt to intervene, automatically delaying a walkout 30 days.

C. V. McLaughlin, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, reported most of the 8000 voters polled in the western states showed a large majority favoring striking. Remaining ballots will be counted Saturday, he said.

FOUR KILLED BY ALABAMA TORNADO

TROY, Ala., April 8.—(UP)—Four persons were killed and at least 20 injured when a tornado roared down on Brundidge, Ala., 17 miles southwest of here today, the sheriff's office reported.

The twister struck the residential section of the town, and leveled more than a score of homes.

COUNTY GROWERS TO GET $100,000

Decision that will mean at least $100,000 to Orange county growers was made today at a meeting of the board of directors of the California Lima Bean Growers' association in Oxnard, it was announced here today.

The decision is that the group voted to make a half-cent a pound payment on the 1936 crop "as of April 15." The announcement pointed out that, of course, this is not the price as marketed, but merely a partial payment of the money owed to growers for the commodity. Other payments will be made in the near future.

PRISONER ACCUSED OF ILLEGAL ENTRY

Charging illegal entry into the United States, Franklin Davis, immigration officer stationed here, launched deportation proceedings today against Jesus Esquivel, who was recently exonerated by a jury of murder charges. At present Esquivel is in jail charged with perjury in connection with his recent trial for murder.

Davis also started deportation proceedings against Charles Ramirez, resident of the United States for the past 36 years, on the grounds that he has been sentenced more than once on charges involving moral turpitude. Ramirez recently was sentenced to serve one year each on two charges of non-support.

Ramirez was first convicted of non-support in 1930 but escaped. He was arrested recently on a similar charge and the old accusation was revived.

$37,500 PAID FOR VALENCIA PROPERTY

Ralph and Willis Mitchell, known as the Mitchell brothers, yesterday purchased through Tubbach and Cook, 414 North Main street, 12½ acres of citrus land on McPadden street just west of Tustin avenue. The sale was made by Aldrich and Graves for a consideration of $37,500.

Mitchell brothers through their acquisition of the 12½ acres now have a 50-acre grove in one block of six-year-old valencias. The grove is said to be one of the finest in Orange county and escaped the frosts of the winter with but slight damage.

Employees Organized
It's different today. The men are organized. They are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Their meetings are attended by high officials and the meetings are sanctioned by the post office department. Today there is a retirement fund for all postal workers. They pay in 3 1/2 per cent of their salary. They may retire at the age of 63 on a salary of $100 monthly for the rest of their lives. It is compulsory that they retire at the age of 65. They all have 10 days sick leave each year and are given 15 working days vacation annually. The vacation days are exclusive of Sundays and holidays. The sick leave days accumulate through the years so that it is possible, after a certain number of years, for a postal employee to be off on account of sickness for a period of nine months on full pay. Should a man become permanently incapacitated during his employment he will receive the retirement pay of $100 per month during the remainder of his life.

Happy To Work
"It's a long time, 31 years, to be walking the streets," said White, "but I like the work. I like the department and I am happy in knowing that I still have 14 years in which I can carry the mail before retiring."

White's route starts at Fourth and Main streets. He traverses the 100 block on West Fourth, Main to Second, Second to Sycamore, Sycamore to First, First to Broadway to Third and Third to Main.

The manufacture of felt hats in the United States requires more than 50,000,000 rabbit skins every year.

Local Pair Plans Tour In France

Two members of the Santa Ana De Molay chapter, Shelley Horton and John Schrier, have planned an educational tour of France this summer. The trip is sponsored by the De Molay chapters and will acquaint the boys with the historic background of Jacques De Molay, the French martyr, for whom the organization was named.

BACK IN JAIL

Robert Lusk, 31, 107 North Lemmon, Anaheim, who was jailed here on a charge of bookmaking last summer, was in jail again today. He was charged with weaving his car about the street at Third and Main. Officers J. B. Stephenson and Ralph Pantuso charged Lusk with drunk driving. A doctor pronounced Lusk "very drunk." Lusk recently was paroled on the bookmaking charge.

Safeway To Sell Turkeys Cheap As Boiling Meat

At your neighborhood Safeway store you can purchase a turkey at a price per pound that is cheaper than boiling meat, dealers declare.

It has been a known fact in the past that turkey meat was a luxury and that only a few people were able to partake of it for this reason, but due to an over-production of ten-million of the crop in California and no demand for these fancy young and prime turkeys at this season of the year they are ridiculously cheap in price and unless the ten million over-production is absorbed very quickly by the consumer the farmer will suffer more loss.

Safeway Stores is lending a hand along this line and will put thousands and thousands of turkeys through to quick consumption by consumers and you will be able to secure a fancy prime young hen turkey at any Safeway Market at a ridiculously low price; in other words "cheaper than boiling meat."

Go to any Safeway Market now and have our smiling and courteous market manager lay you away one of these nice birds for your Sunday dinner this week. We will have plenty of turkeys to take care of all demands so everybody will be assured of a choice bird for your dinner at a surprisingly low price.

INSURGENTS IN MOVE ON BILBAO

BILBAO, Spain, April 8.—(UP)—Gen. Emilio Mola's nationalist army made a sudden advance today to the outskirts of Bilbao, five miles from Durango and 16 miles from Bilbao, loyalist army dispatches reported. The move brought the nationalists within heavy artillery range of Bilbao, the Basque capital.

In a flanking movement by which his forces swept around Ochandiano, thereby avoiding hundreds of loyalist machine gun nests concealed in the rocky crags of surrounding hills, Mola sent his invading army down the Ochandiano road to the village of Dima.

A loyalist air fleet bombed and machine gunned the advancing nationalists and positions around Ochandiano with heavy losses, army dispatches said.

One section of Mola's army was still held up in front of Ochandiano where the government was in control of twin mountain peaks on either side of Ochandiano, about 15 miles from Bilbao.

After an advance of about eight miles in the last week, Mola found himself today confronted by Mount Amboto, 4000 feet high, and Mount Gorbica, 4000 feet high. Heavy falls of snow and sleet delayed troop movements.

Pilgrim Players To Give Drama Sunday Evening

The Pilgrim Players will present the drama "Caliph" at the First Baptist church Sunday evening at 7:30. They will appear under the direction of Dr. George Bunnell.

In this drama the players portray an incident which might well have occurred in the home of this proud and arrogant high priest of the people, and shows how the character and influence of the gentle Galilean, Jesus of Nazareth, affected the lives of men in high places even as it did the simpler folk of His day.

Although a portion of the story was not obtained from the Bible, the author, Dorothy Clarke Wilson, popular writer of religious dramas, has drawn an appealing and sympathetic picture of the opposition with which Jesus met.

The drama is in one act and the characters portrayed by Dr. George Bunnell and his group of players are:

Caliph, High Priest of Israel; Malchus, his servant; Labanah, his wife; Tarnah, her hand-maiden; Nicodemus, of the Sanhedrin; Jabal, a robber; Reba, a robber girl; a Roman centurion.

Pipe smoking is believed to have originated in America.

David Cherry presided as the proposed change in the United States supreme court was discussed. Toastmasters: Daniel K. Brown, W. N. Cummings, D. H. Tibbals, Eugene Kruger, George DeRouhae and G. F. McKeivley.

Following the discussion period, panel members answered questions asked by club members.

Bert Lawler acted as general critic, with James T. Workman as dictionary critic.

Arthur Kruger was welcomed into the club by Dr. Perry Davis.

L. V. Thurlow, R. K. Bowman, R. B. Gould, Phil Crittenden and Jack Baker were visitors to the club.

WEBB TO DIRECT S. F. GRAFT QUIZ

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—(UP)—With Attorney General U. S. Webb directing the prosecution in the case of one San Francisco's police graft investigation today appeared to be at the "cross-roads." The new county grand jury will meet Monday to decide whether it will start another inquiry into vice payoffs, or stop where the 1936 grand jury left off.

Webb announced he would take over control of the inquiry, as requested by District Attorney Matthew Brady. He said his office would give the inquisitorial body any assistance it might ask in the event they conclude to consider alleged graft conditions in San Francisco.

WAGE COMMITTEE STUDIES NEW LAWS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(UP)—A special minimum wage committee of the labor department met today to consider drafting a model state law covering wages for men as well as for women.

The committee will decide whether a new law is desirable or whether existing state statutes should be amended. Bearing on their discussion will be the supreme court decision upholding the Washington state minimum wage law and President Roosevelt's letter to congress that the decision revitalized the District of Columbia minimum wage act.

Government officials and legislators, advised that Mr. Roosevelt believes national laws are necessary to establish the wage and hour precepts he desires, continued study of a substitute NRA bill for presentation to congress this spring.

GREAT BRITAIN GETS APOLOGY FROM GOVERNOR

LONDON, April 8.—(UP)—The Spanish nationalist military governor of Majorca island, in the Balearics, has apologized to Great Britain for a nationalist seaplane attack on the destroyer Gallant. It was announced today.

The apology was conveyed to the captain of the British cruiser Shropshire, which arrived at Palma, chief town of the island, with the destroyer Garland yesterday.

The ships had been ordered to proceed at full speed to make a strong protest.

COURT DECREE OPENS WAY FOR TAX REGULATION

The five-cent budget increase limitation, bugaboo of local tax-filing bodies in recent years, was hailed with relief today by administrative boards, in the wake of an appellate court decision holding that the law has been ineffective since 1935.

Intended originally to curb taxes and promote economy in government, the act has been viewed by county, municipal and school officials here as actually defeating the objective it sought.

In many instances, administrative boards have hesitated to reduce tax budgets, when it would have been possible, because they knew that in the next ensuing year a larger budget would be needed again, and the five per cent budget increase limitation would not permit it. Accordingly they kept the budget at the higher level for the current year, in order not to cripple the government the next year.

Now the courts have held that there is no budget limitation law, and boards will no longer face that problem, unless the legislature decides to enact a law restoring the limitation.

The state board of equalization sought religiously during the past two years to enforce the "5 per cent limitation act," and learned that in the opinion of the third district court of appeals the act has been unconstitutional and ineffective since July 1, 1935.

Originally, the limitation was a constitutional measure designed to limit political subdivisions to budget increases of no more than 5 per cent above the amount spent the previous year, except by permission of the board of equalization. This was designed to prevent extravagant expenses and increased taxation.

In 1935, the legislature voted to continue the act—which expired June 30 of that year—but to change its provisions to permit an accumulation of increases of 5 per cent, provided the subdivision had not increased its expenditures in one or more of the preceding years. In other words, if a county had spent the same amount for three years prior to July 1, 1935, it was entitled to a 15 per cent increase for the 1935-36 fiscal year.

Significant Ruling

The appellate court held that this change was not within the jurisdiction of the legislature, as the lawmakers could not alter a constitutional provision. Therefore, the court decided, the limitation act expired June 30, 1935.

The court opinion, regarded by officials as one of the most significant reported insofar as governmental expenditures were concerned, resulted from a suit by P. Q. Robinson to collect payment from Irwin Payne, Lake county treasurer, for equipment sold to the Kelseyville fire district in 1935.

Payne refused payment because he said the amount would cause the district to exceed its five per cent limitation. A superior court upheld Payne, but the appellate court agreed with Robinson that the limitation imposed by the 1935 legislature was illegal because it conflicted with earlier constitutional restrictions.

PRESS CLUB OF ORANGE COUNTY IS ORGANIZED

News men of Orange county reversed the order last night and made news when they met at Dixie Castle cafe on 101 Highway and organized the Orange County Press club.

Nineteen working members of the press, representing the five daily newspapers in the county formed a permanent organization, elected officers and appointed a committee of three to draw up a written report covering proposed activities and objectives of the club, which will be of a social nature.

Mason Yould, managing editor of the Santa Ana Register, was elected president of the club. Other officers named were: Ray Arguello, city editor of the Orange Daily News, vice president; Kenneth Adams, Santa Ana Journal, secretary, and Stan Wilson, Orange Daily News, treasurer.

Officers of the club will serve for one year. Meetings will be held on the first Wednesday of each month until organization details are completed and final arrangements made.

On authorization of the membership, President Yould appointed a committee comprised of Perry Maynard, Fullerton News-Tribune, Brick Gaines, Santa Ana Journal, and Paul Vissman, Santa Ana Register, to submit a report at the next meeting covering the broad general objectives of the club.

The committee will study the advisability of arranging for permanent clubrooms and acceptance of associate members of the organization. Members of the committee also will suggest a program of activities for the club.

A motion adopted by the charter members provided that charter members will hold active membership in the press club so long as they are employed by a newspaper, and if he changes his occupation he may become an associate member if he so desires.

Next meeting of the press club will be held at the Santa Ana Country club. It will be a dinner meeting and the Orange members will act as hosts. Publishers of daily newspapers in the county will be extended an invitation to attend the meeting.

Charter members of the press club are: Ray Arguello, Stan Wilson and Fred Bolinger, Orange Daily News; Mason Yould, Eddie West, Neil Shaw, Malcolm Bostwick, Paul Vissman and Ted Stephenson, Santa Ana Register; Perry Maynard and Tom MacMaster, Fullerton News-Tribune; Bob Gelvet, Long Beach Press-Telegram; Jack W. Ellwanger, Roch Bradshaw, Brick Gaines, Frank Orr, Paul Bodenhamer, Paul Wright and Kenneth Adams, Santa Ana Journal.

Rankin's Store To Show Invention By Santa Ana

Who is your master, your shirt or your shirt tail, your skirt or you? That is the question Walter Gustlin, brother of Clarence Gustlin, well-known pianist of Santa Ana, asks today. Walter, too, is a Santa Ana man—an inventor.

Are you having trouble keeping your houses from pulling out your skirt . . . are you forever tucking the sides down in your skirt . . . or if you're a man, are you having trouble over your trousers slipping? Then TRIK is what you've been looking for. With TRIK fitted into your skirt or trouser waistband, you can raise your arms in perfect comfort, without being embarrassed by "coming apart in the middle."

Walter, whose father was an inventor before him, invented TRIK some months ago and has introduced it in Hollywood, Westwood, Palm Springs and other exclusive districts.

Tomorrow, he is introducing TRIK to Santa Ana at Rankin's department store with a special display to last a week. Various stages of the manufacturing process will be shown. In Los Angeles exclusive stores, the new invention has gone over with a "bang". New Yorkers have "fallen" for it. Popular Mechanics, Popular Science and Modern Mechanics all have published stories about the local invention.

This is definitely a suit year and reports show that no suit is complete without TRIK. For street wear, business or sport, TRIK assures you that freedom and comfort which comes from knowledge of being perfectly groomed. TRIK is ideal for slacks and shorts as well.

765 PERSONS ARE PLACED BY NRS

Ushering in a new era of governmental service the Orange county branch of the National Reemployment Service placed 765 persons in gainful employment with private industry, according to Charles Falter, manager of the bureau.

Falter, in his report, pointed out that the service is functioning efficiently to bring together jobless men and needless jobs. Not only does the service find jobs but, through its system of records and interviews, sends only the best qualified men to interview prospective employers.

Falter said that his office keeps accurate records and statistics on employment, together with the work history of the available unemployed persons. Each applicant for a job is given a private interview by a personnel expert who specializes in matching jobs and men. All available information about the applicant's work history record is kept on file. When an employer notifies the office that there is a job to be filled, this record is consulted and the best qualified registrant is sent to interview the prospective employer.

ANDERSON FIRM SALE CLOSED

Sale of the Alexander Anderson, Inc., manufacturers of oil survey instruments with offices in Fullerton, Long Beach, Bakersfield and Santa Barbara, to a Lane-Wells company was announced today.

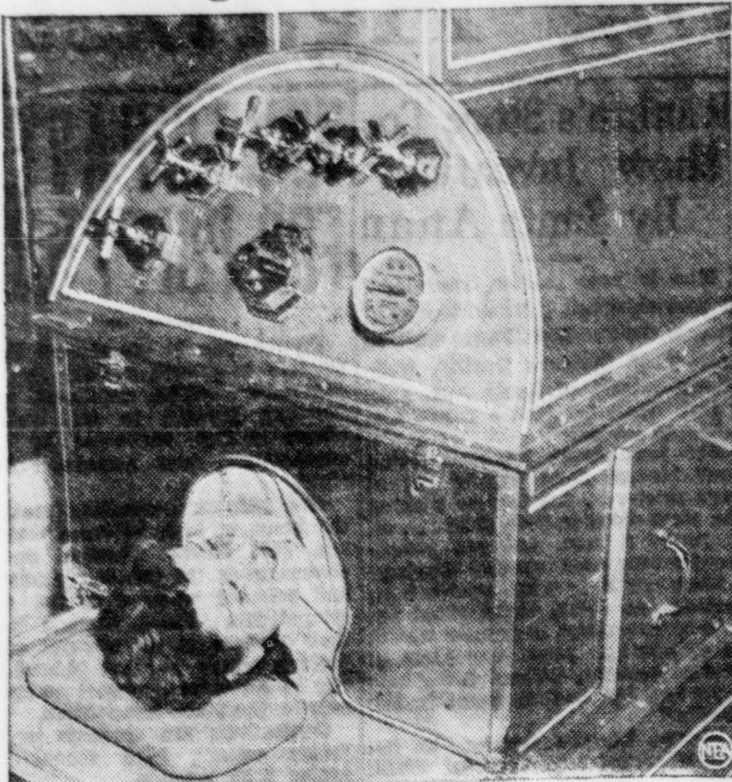

The new owners took over all survey equipment, patents, machinery and contracts. The Anderson organization, in addition to manufacturing well survey instruments and conducting well surveys also manufactured a line of drill bits particularly adapted for directional drilling. This branch of the business has also been taken over by the new management.

Anderson, founder of the company, first came to Orange county as instructor in surveying and geology at the Fullerton Junior college, holding this position from 1921 until 1924. While teaching in Fullerton he invented and patented several of his oil well survey devices and completed and patented his method of orienting survey instruments and whiststocks as well as a new type of photographic recording survey instrument.

COINS ANTEDATING REVOLUTION APPEAR IN OLD-COIN DISPLAY

By GEORGE HART

Not only one but two American coins antedating the Revolution appeared today in the Methuselah Marathon, edging the antiquity record still farther into past centuries.

Mrs. Annie L. Arnold, 405 South Birch street, took leadership by producing a coin that goes almost back to the Mayflower. Her Pine Tree shilling, dated 1652, was among the first coins minted in New England.

Conjures Memories
It brought back memories of the old Swinton third reader, which told how the New England governor figured out his daughter's dowry by placing her on one side of a scale and balancing her weight with Pine Tree shillings.

This particular silver 12 1/2-cent piece, once round perhaps, but now rather irregular in outline, has been in the family of Mrs. Arnold's husband for 175 years, she stated.

Another pre-revolution coin reported today was a 1756 penny in possession of Mrs. H. L. Burchfield, 208 South Madrona, Brea, who also has a 1793 penny. Likewise, Mrs. Burchfield has a penny so old that the date has been worn entirely away. She has had the coins 30 years.

One interesting contribution to the Methuselah Marathon today, although not the oldest, is a collection of 36 pennies in the possession of R. E. Hancock, 1030 1-2 West Third street, Santa Ana. The lot ranges from 1816 to 1855, covering almost every year in that period.

Spanish Coins
Still another unusual assortment is a group of Spanish coins collected by Charles E. Dixon, Spanish War veteran, 1138 South Ross street, while he was in the Philippines in 1898. It includes a two-peseta piece of 1786 and another of 1817; a 1740 peseta and another, with the date blurred, but apparently 1704; a half-peseta of 1762, and a Spanish peso of 1794. These are the oldest of Dixon's collection.

Other coins reported today include:
L. H. Bailey, 308 North Parton, Santa Ana: 1855 pfennig; 1800 Canadian dime; 1817 U. S. half-cent; 1852 three-cent piece.

Mrs. R. S. Clark, 120 South Bristol, Santa Ana: pennies of 1803, 1807 and 1824; half-cent of 1804.

G. E. Miles, 1931 West Washington, Santa Ana, 1825 penny.
Mrs. Alfred Smith, 2700 Ocean avenue, Newport Beach: pennies of 1829, 1833 and 1853; two-cent pieces of 1864 and 1865; three-cent pieces of 1865 and 1866.

Four English Coins
H. A. Barrows, 1230 South Broadway, Santa Ana: 1828 half-cent.

Mrs. Beatrice Haugh, R. D. 4, Anaheim: 1830 silver half-dollar.
The Rev. Sarah Elm, 2147 South Sycamore, Santa Ana: 1853 three-cent piece; 1853 half-dime; 1855 penny.

LAGUNA BOARD VOTES TO ISSUE SCHOOL BONDS

The Laguna Beach district school board voted last night to hold a special election in May to issue $100,000 in school district bonds, to enlarge the school accommodations, stated to be inadequate. Considerable discussion preceded the adoption of the resolution authorizing the clerk to advertise the bond election; and many factors, including attendance figures, increase in population in the school district, and other vital angles, were adduced in favor of the action finally taken by the board.

Discuss Teachers
Reversing the action taken in similar circumstances last year, the Laguna Beach district school board voted down, 3-2, a proposal to bar teachers, of either sex, whose spouses were gainfully employed, from service in local schools. In March, 1936, the policy of the board was stated to be, that teachers whose husbands or wives, as the case might be, were employed in gainful occupations, could not expect renewal of contracts to teach in local schools, when such contracts expired. Due to this dictum, several adjustments, domestic and educational, were necessitated.

Discuss Jobs
At last night's meeting, the cases of two male teachers, whose wives are employed, were discussed at length. Proponents of the old rule stated that their action was intended as a move to spread out work among those in need of it, and to discourage the practice of two or more jobs in one family. Opponents of the existing rule were equally emphatic in their statements of the other side of the case.

KEN Murray SAYS:

HOLLYWOOD, April 7.—That's a nice scare that beauty expert threw into the fair sex about women getting to look like men if they keep on smoking. And he doesn't mean look like Robert Taylor, either. This big-shot beautician threatens female smokers with everything but growing Adam's apples.

Still, it would have its compensations. With both sexes looking alike, a man won't have to read a newspaper in a street car when a woman is standing up in front of him.

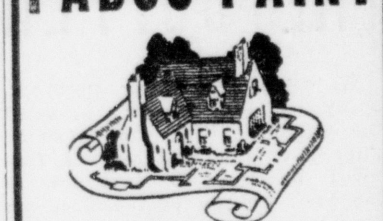

And it won't be so bad if women smokers get to look like men so long as they don't act like men and start borrowing cigarettes.

But with both sexes looking alike, the world's oldest vaudeville gag will go like this:
"Who was that gentleman I seen you with last night?"
"That wasn't no gentleman—that was my wife."

There will be an exhibit of art work of parents of the district. Winning entries will be displayed at California State Congress of Parents and Teachers' convention in Pasadena in May.

Mrs. Elsner Concludes Two Years Of P.-T. A. Presidency

Two years of service as president of Santa Ana High school P.-T. A. were concluded Tuesday evening by Mrs. E. H. Elsner, who was commended highly on the accomplishments of the association during her regime. Already the possessor of a past president's pin, which is a customary remembrance to each retiring leader, Mrs. Elsner was presented with a surprise gift.

Mrs. Elsner and other officers and chairmen gave annual reports at the association's closing meeting of the year Tuesday evening in the school cafeteria.

"Youth and Its Leisure Time" was the theme of a program conducted under direction of William Foote. He led an open forum on the subject, and told of some of the facilities which the high school provides for special student activities. Illustrating the use which some of the students make of their leisure time, a group of young men played several orchestral selections.

Coming as a surprise to Principal Lynn Crawford was presentation to him of the association's gift of a life membership certificate.

Preceding the meeting was a dinner shared by mothers of senior class students and other guests.

Mrs. Ora K. Heine, past president of Santa Ana League of Women Voters will be installed president of High school P.-T. A. this month, and will preside over the May meeting of the group, it was announced.

Installation Ceremonies Announced For April 22

Coming as a finale to Santa Ana P.-T. A. activities for the year will be installation ceremonies in which all units of the city federation will combine and which will be held in the educational building of First Christian church Thursday evening, April 22. The event will open with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

Convening Tuesday morning in board of education building, council members made final plans for the installation, during which Mrs. Floyd Mitchell will become president to succeed Mrs. John J. Mills. Reservations for the dinner should be made by April 21 with Mrs. Dale Elliott, Mrs. George Calhoun or Mrs. Harry Becker. All past and incoming presidents of Santa Ana Parent-Teacher associations, other new officers and past officers are among those expected to attend, it was announced.

Many Activities
Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson gave a legislative report, discussing pending bills. Several members signed telegrams to be sent to the state legislature recommending that an amendment be made to the bill which would bar osteopaths from serving as school physicians.

Annual reports were given by Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, who discussed "the exceptional child"; Mrs. Ray Adkinson, student loan and life membership; Mrs. R. D. Flaherty, publicity; Mrs. James Givens, finance, budget and program; Mrs. Lorene Croddy Graves, music and radio; Mrs. Marcus Lassiter, art; Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, membership; Mrs. Harry Becker, founders' day; Mrs. Frank Corey, publications; Mrs. R. A. McMahon, association standards. It was pointed out that seven Santa Ana associations had acquired standard achievements, setting a record in local P.-T.A. history. Mrs. Mitchell reported that the council has 1581 members. In her report, Mrs. Corey announced that 187 Santa Anans subscribe to Parent-Teacher magazine.

Other reports were given by Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, second vice president; Mrs. James Givens, first vice president. Mrs. Glenn Tidball reported that 624 members had registered during the year just drawing to a close. Historian's report will be given by Mrs. Glenn Tidball at the installation dinner. Announcement was made that Fourth District P.-T. A. will meet April 15 in Yorba Linda Friends church beginning at 9:30 a.m. There will be a musical program and an art exhibit in connection with the meeting. All new presidents of P.-T. A. especially are urged to attend.

P.-T. A. Congress
Mrs. Harry Drown, president of fourth district association, called for reservations to California Congress of P.-T. A. convention to be held May 25-28 in Pasadena. Reservations for fourth district's dinner meeting to be held as a feature of the conference May 25 in California hotel, Pasadena, should be made with Mrs. Drown by May 1.

Lists of all new officers and chairmen of the various P.-T. A. units of the city should be sent to Mrs. Mitchell immediately, it was announced. Associations were reminded that names of new officers to be installed April 22 should be sent in to her very shortly.

Plans were announced for observance of public school week beginning April 26.

Julia Lathrop

High eight girls under Miss Florence Kline's supervision in vocations, have elected new officers, who are: Ruth Mary Murphy, president; Ruane Neighbor, vice president; Bonnie Lee Martin, secretary-treasurer; Lorraine Crawford, sergeant; Aileen Fipps, critic; and Marion Blackburn, reporter.

Ninth grade classes are working hard on W. C. T. U. essays this week. A $1 prize will be given to each section this year, so there are seven Lathrop ninth graders who will be a dollar richer some time soon.

Boys in chef's caps and aprons appear every once in a while in the Lathrop halls. Don't laugh! These boys are some of the best cooks we have. Preparations for breakfasts and how to cook them have been occupying the boys until just recently, when they have started studying luncheons and dinners. Bruce Yarborough, class reporter for this Boys' Foods class, says that a contest has been started, where the side getting the most checks, entertains the other side.

Leading panel discussions on the British empire, Jack Morgan and Bruce Carnahan of Miss Pearl Nicholson's class are getting to be regular platform speakers. Thomas Shoen and Grove Bancroft of the same class have returned to their jobs as film, clerks. After several weeks of enforced vacation, Jack Lewis is proudly displaying a wooden puzzle made with a carving knife.

On Thursday evening, Lathrop's Girls Glee club will sing three numbers at the W. C. T. U. Gold Medal contest to be held at Spurgeon school.

High eighth grade classes in literature, under Mrs. Marguerite Hall's sponsorship, have been illustrating short stories of true life which they have been studying this last quarter. The drawings are followed by an oral review of the story studied.

A home-made candy sale Wednesday noon was one of the Junior Literary club's recent activities.

As a feature of the April Lathrop lineup, Miss Blythe and Mr. Baker, faculty advisors, have been sponsoring a cartoon contest. The time for submitting cartoons was set for Wednesday. Those judged to be the best will be used in this month's issue of the school paper. Clever cartoons have been submitted by George Kanno, Jack Atwood, Marvin Mendenhall, Bill Hart, Russell Jacobs, Somers Beau-

Tomorrow Brings Carnival At Edison School

Corridors of Edison school will be lined with booths and interesting displays tomorrow afternoon all in readiness for a carnival to be staged by Edison P.-T. A. under the general chairmanship of Mrs. George Pickett.

Beginning at 6 o'clock, the affair will continue on through the evening. Seven o'clock will bring a special program in the auditorium. Every student in the school has a part in "Pageant of School Months" to be presented as the main feature. There will be selections by Sidney Messenger's five-piece orchestra.

Booths will be open to the public before and after the program. It was announced today. Sandwiches, candies and other foods will be for sale in addition to tea towels, white elephants and other articles.

Mrs. Harold Moomaw, president of the association, is in charge of program. Other committee chairmen working with Mrs. Pickett are Mrs. Kenneth Green, pianist; Mrs. Lawrence Brown, coffee; Mrs. Lee Elliott, winners; Mrs. Stewart Gibbs, ice cream; Mrs. Joseph Hazen and Mrs. Arthur Blandin, fish pond; Mrs. Louis Endres, white elephant; Mrs. Walton Schirmer, tea towels; Mrs. O. L. Phillips, tickets.

The next regular meeting of Edison P.-T. A. will be held Tuesday, April 20 in the school. Mrs. Evadna Perry will give an illustrated talk on Mexico.

BOARD MEETING

New board members and retiring board of Jefferson P.-T. A. will meet next Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the school.

champ, Harold Herren and Jimmie Farren.

The Travel club, with Miss Hazel Thrasher as its sponsor, took a trip through Alaska, with Gordon Zizek conducting the imaginary tour, and pointing out interesting scenes along the way.

Vocation classes under Miss Thrasher are working on special projects such as growing wheat, corn, or any product in industry. The class is very much interested in this activity.

Mrs. Webber reports that her boys' vocation class is studying dairying. Topics for discussion have included the kinds of grains used to feed cattle, pasteurization of milk, diseases of cows, and the ingredients of different grains and how they are used. Practical knowledge of one of our largest and most necessary industries is the aim of this work. Elsie Burrows gave a most interesting talk on this subject.

Several Lathrop students have checked out recently and are returning to their homes in the east for the spring and summer.

Lathrop branch library's picture title contest is progressing with a great deal of interest; scrambled book titles are posted each day by the librarian, Miss Calkins, for the students to work out.

OFFICERS ARE DESERT DUCKS

Featured by the initiation of many of the peace officers into the Ancient and Honorable Order of the Desert Ducks, the stag meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association was held last night in the V. F. W. hall here with about 75 members attending the frolicsome affair.

Presided over by President D. R. McMillan, of Santa Ana, the business session was devoted to discussion of a higher insurance policy for the benefit of the peace officers. An effort will be made to raise the insurance from $500 to $1000 per officer.

A committee was appointed for the purpose of considering the matter with Chief of Police James Flanagan, of Fullerton, chairman, supported by Chief of Police R. R. Hodgkinson, Newport Beach; Chief of Police George Franz, Orange; Hunter Leach and Fred Wilbur, Santa Ana, and Chief of Police James Boldin, Anaheim.

Musical Program

George Graupensberger, of Santa Ana, a former deputy sheriff of Orange county, offered a short address, while a Mexican trio presented several musical selections. The Anaheim Elks club Drum and Bugle corps offered several numbers before attending the meeting of the Orange Elks lodge held across the street.

Mayor A. C. Boice, of Orange, Councilmen Carl M. Carlson, and Justice of the Peace Cal D. Lester, of Orange township, were guests at the meeting. A 6:30 o'clock dinner was served by President McMillan, Officer Hunter Leach, Jesse L. Elliott, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting.

FIRST STEP IS TAKEN TO FOUND SEA SCOUT AREA

Accepting the offer of property fronting 100 feet on Newport Harbor, officials of the Sea Scout branch of the Boy Scouts of America last night took the first step toward establishment of a Sea Scout training base at the harbor.

The training base, when established, probably will include a permanent building with a competent officer in charge at all times.

Officials representing Sea Scout organizations in every county from Santa Barbara to San Diego met at dinner last night in Wilson's cafe, Balboa, to discuss establishment of a permanent base in the beach city and expansion of the Sea Scouting program.

Property Specified
Mayor Harry Williamson of Newport Beach and commodore of the Sea Scout organization in Orange county announced that the City of Newport Beach has set aside property fronting 100 feet on the west end of the Orange County channel in the harbor, for use as a permanent Sea Scout base. This property is large enough, he pointed out, to permit construction of a permanent building to be used by the organization.

Discussing proposals to establish the base at Newport Harbor, C. E. Vesey, Santa Monica, commodore of the Twelfth Region, Sea Scouts, including California, Arizona, Utah and Nevada, said that the permanent base should be a Southern California District project as it would be too costly to be handled by one county unit.

Buildings Planned
It was decided that the matter be taken up with district officers of the organization who will work out plans for establishing the base and financing erection of adequate buildings to carry on a long time program of Sea Scout training.

It was also suggested by Skipper Hill, of the Old Baldy Ship, Pomona, that when the base is established that the navy be asked to locate a ship in the harbor to be used as a floating headquarters for the Sea Scouts with the officers and crew of the ship indirectly in charge of training activities.

Commodore Vesey said Sea Scouting has proven so popular that, within the past year, the number of ships have doubled. Twenty-five per cent of the ships, he said, are located in Southern California and 40 per cent of this number are located in two counties, Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Tooth Starts Frenzy, Then Quick Flight

When a tooth hurts, it hurts and that's all there is to it, Police learned that last night about 7:20 o'clock when called to a local dentist's office to "tame" a boisterous man and woman who came there to have a tooth fixed.

"I'm tied up with my work and cannot fix your tooth tonight," the dentist told the woman. "If you don't, we'll fix you," the couple told the doctor and his nurse, or words to that effect. When Officers Roy Hartley and Francis Norton answered the doctor's call for assistance, the couple had fled, aching tooth and all.

AFFIDAVIT IN AMES CASE IS OUT OF COURT

Charges of bias and prejudice made against Superior Judge H. G. Ames by counsel for heirs of the $2,500,000 Panny Bixby Spencer estate, who asked that he be disqualified, were heard before Superior Judge B. F. Warner, of San Bernardino, when the affidavit containing the charges was withdrawn and ordered expunged from the court record.

Not only did Attorneys George Higgins and Franklin Bull, who presented the affidavit, voluntarily withdraw it and declare that they had meant no reflection upon the integrity of the judge, but members of the Orange county bar rallied to the support of Judge Ames, and a Long Beach attorney, George Taubman Jr., demanded that the attorneys who filed the affidavit should apologize to the jurist.

Rulings Affirmed

During the brief hearing, when Bull and Higgins pointed out that their affidavit had been based upon the fact that Judge Ames had made rulings against their side of the case in previous hearings of the estate controversy, Judge Warner declared that there was nothing to support the charge of bias and prejudice, and pointed out that the previous rulings by Judge Ames had been affirmed by the appellate court, showing that they were not biased.

Attorneys Z. B. Davis, Franklin G. West, James L. Davis, L. W. Blodgett and F. C. Drumm appeared in the role of amici curiae—friends of the court—and expressed their resentment at efforts to cast reflection upon the integrity of the court by losers in litigation.

Case Reviewed

S. M. Reinhaus, representing the administratrix, Mrs. Emale Freeman, moved dismissal of the proceedings on the ground that the affidavit was improperly withdrawn. Several attorneys then were trying to talk at once, but Higgins and Bull ended by withdrawing their affidavit voluntarily.

When Judge Warner left the bench, Judge Ames took his place and set April 20 as the date for hearing the contest of the two heirs, Elizabeth Irving Bixby and Lillian Odisho Bajon, against the accounting of the trustee, Security-First National Bank.

Judge Ames then informed the heirs' attorneys, Higgins and Bull, that he did not intend to hear the contest and never had any intention of hearing; that Judge Warner would preside.

MANIAC SOUGHT IN THIS COUNTY

Sheriff Logan Jackson and his men today were cooperating with other Southern California law enforcement officers in a search for L. J. Kotz, 29, escaped maniac, sought as the asserted slayer of Emerson L. Albright, attendant at Patton state hospital for the insane.

Officers in Los Angeles guarded the home of Mandel Kotz, the insane man's father, fearful that the son might attempt to harm his father who had him committed to the state hospital.

Sheriffs of all Southern California counties were warned to be on the lookout for Kotz, although he was believed to have headed toward Los Angeles.

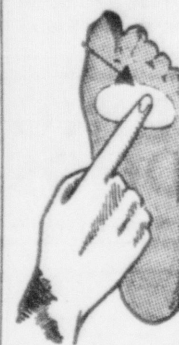

San Bernardino county authorities charged Kotz summoned Albright to him by asking for medicine yesterday morning and then attempted to strangle the attendant with a towel. Falling in that he obtained a hammer and beat him to death.

Prior to entering the state hospital, Kotz served a term at San Quentin state prison on holdup charges but was paroled in custody of his father who later had him committed to the hospital.

MEXICANS GUARD U. S. COMMISSION

MEXICO CITY, April 8.—(UP)

—Police today took extraordinary precautions to protect members of an American commission threatened by Mexican Communists if they go ahead with plans for an informal trial of Leon Trotsky on treason charges against him brought by Moscow.

The local Communists' declaration that they would break up the hearing of evidence on the charges was interpreted by some here as a "threat of death." Heavy police guards were reinforced as a result.

FORK USED BY LAFAYETTE IN REVOLUTIONARY WAR IS NOW OWNED BY MAYOR OF ORANGE

By MARAH ADAMS

A fork with which General Lafayette ate many of his meals while in America during the Revolutionary War, a spinning wheel made especially for his great-grandmother when she was a little girl, are among the many treasures to be found in the home of Dr. A. Croxton Boice, mayor of the city of Orange who lives at 472 South Glassell street, that city.

The fork with which the French general ate is a two-tined affair made of steel and with a bone handle. It was cherished as a keepsake in one of the mayor's ancestors who bore a distant relationship to Lafayette and with whom he stayed a part of the time during his sojourn here.

The sugar bowl is of Delft ware and the glazing on the outside, Dr. Boice says, is as good as when it was taken from the kiln. The glazing inside the bowl however is cracked. The spinning wheel was made for the great-grandmother of Dr. Boice when she was a little girl. It is in perfect condition and the treadle is worn to the thickness of a knife blade. If a spinner could be secured who knew the art, the mayor declares that the wheel is ready to go at a moment's notice.

Years Turned Back

In imagination the years are turned back to the sight of the stout oak wheel and a little girl in prim long skirts, black strap sandals and curls about a delicate face may almost be seen guiding the thread and working the treadle with her small foot. The daughter of this little girl lived to be 100 years old and became the mayor's grandmother.

Other things of interest in the Boice home is a complete set of Columbia stamps issued at the time of the World's Fair at Chicago in 1892 and ranging from one cent stamps to $5 stamps. He also has a complete collection of scrip used at the time of the Civil War when there was no silver or gold in circulation with which to make change. 2-cent, 5-cent, 10, 15 and 25 cent bills, Dr. Boice says there was no money back of the bills to redeem in $3 lots at postoffices.

A letter mailed more than 100 years ago and simply folded without an outside covering also is owned by the mayor. It was mailed in Missouri and was sent to a town in Ohio, named after the family of the mayor, Croxton, Ohio. In those days Dr. Boice points out, there were no postage stamps and the receiver of a letter paid the postage. This particular letter was carried to its destination by horseback. The ink is as black as when written.

War Records

War records of his family which are extensive are highly prized by Dr. Boice. He has pictures and records of a cousin, Dr. J. C. Boice of Washington, Iowa, who enlisted in the Union army when he was but 12 years of age. He was discharged but went back again as a member of the cavalry. Another cousin enlisted when 12 and being discharged, he learned to be a bugler, marching off with his company when but 15.

Dr. J. C. Boice is now 91 years of age and still lives in the town from which he enlisted in Iowa. His wife has the distinction of having been the teacher of a Bible class of women in the town for 56 years without an interruption.

With Pilgrims

The mayor's mother's people came to America on the Mayflower and their name Croxton is inscribed on Plymouth Rock at Plymouth. This is something, Dr. Boice says, that he seldom reveals as so many persons are supposed to have come over on that ship that 10 large battle ships of the present day type would have been required to convey them here.

Records of two uncle's are cherished by Dr. Boice. One formed a regiment to fight for the south and the other formed a regiment to fight for the north and both marched away the same day and the same hour from the same town. Croxton's Run in Virginia was named for an ancestor of the mayor and his family held a grant from the king in that colony, Dr. Boice

MAN HELD WHEN STILL IS FOUND

Apprehended by H. E. MacKenzie, head of the local liquor enforcement office of the board of equalization, Walter Lee, assistant here, and Herman Pause, member of the Los Angeles county still detail, last night, T. Yoskida, 61, Whittier avenue, Costa Mesa, was jailed here and charged with felony, illegal possession of still and equipment.

Among the equipment and materials confiscated were 250 gallons of mash; a 50-gallon barrel of "tailings;" electric ager; six sugar sacks; 50 one-gallon bottles; five five-gallon bottles; two siphon hoses; six empty yeast boxes; a gasoline tank, two hydrometers, and other equipment.

Officer MacKenzie reported evidence shows Yoskida has used numerous aliases in recent months. The still was hot when confiscated.

"SINGING COWBOY" AT STATE FRIDAY

Dick Foran, popular, big, red-headed Singing Cowboy, returns to the State theater tomorrow in the western melodrama, "Land Beyond the Law."

Foran is shown as a brave, though rather wild, young cowboy, who after a while gives up his bad companions, becomes a sheriff and is one of the governor's most trusted aides in cleaning up the Territory of New Mexico during its pioneer days.

Linda Perry is the pretty young settler's daughter for whom Dick fares forth on hard-riding, fast-shooting exploits. Joseph King takes the role of General Wallace, the first governor of New Mexico who later won fame and fortune by writing "Ben Hur."

In addition to the feature picture the program will include "Pan Handlers," a comedy featuring Patsy Kelly; "Hold the Wire," a Pop-eye cartoon; chapter ten of the serial, "The Fighting Marines," and a newsreel.

Friday, the State theater will present three complete shows, at 2:00, 7:00 and 9:00, while Saturday there will be continuous shows starting at 1:00 with a complete show after 9:30.

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, April 8.—Settin' Around (20th Century-Fox): Head man Darryl Zanuck, "miracle worker" who lifted this studio from the ground floor to the roof, greeted me today with: "America is in the mood for love." It sounded like a song title, so I cracked back, "What country or woman or man isn't?" But he was serious; his remark was a well thought out bit of philosophy.

All forthcoming pictures from his studio, he promises, will be heavily spiced with romance. Proof of the pudding, Darryl said, are some of the company's recent releases, among them the most glorious of all love stories, "Seventh Heaven," "Love Is News," "On the Avenue" and more. "Love, song and laughter are what the world is seeking," Zanuck said. So from now until further notice, you are goin' to find honey and cream on your movie menu.

I found the "Wee Winnie Winkle" set in a state of suppressed excitement. Inquiry revealed that the script called for Shirley Temple to be spanked. She had been a bad girl and she had to be punished, even as other erring little kiddies. Shirley was looking forward with considerable glee to the filming of the scene, because she has never been spanked (that is, not on-screen, but in real life—well, that is different!).

But Jane Lang, Shirley's mama in the picture, was the most worried young actress I ever remembered seeing. She was in a mood to walk off the set. Perhaps there was reason for worry. She was to do the spanking, and she was not certain how a few million fans who love Shirley would take it. Such screen moments have been known to clip careers short.

Eventually the scene was made though. June administered a few light taps which the sound department will turn into noisy spanking. Meanwhile, the entire troupe stood in absolute silence, awaiting results. And the results were worth waiting for: Up came Shirley with a bright grin, and said, "Oh, that didn't hurt. You'd better have mother show you how, and we'll re-take the scene."

On the same set, Victor McLaglen was having trouble remembering some of the complicated lines of this Rudyard Kipling story. At last the director grew impatient and suggested that Vic had not studied his script carefully. McLaglen was not in humor for criticism, and mumbled, "Aw, I know my lines." "That may be," snapped the director, "but you don't know Kipling's."

The happiest set I have visited of late was for "This Is My Affair." No wonder, with Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor again co-starring. Anybody who tells you this romance is on the wane is insane. What a climax they were having rehearsing love scenes: I am sure they would not have objected had the kissing sequences gone on for days. Bob has gone so utterly romantic that he orders coffee for the entire company every morning. Today there was 250 extras plus Fidler present, but Bob did not bat an eye as he put in the usual order.

CLEAR SKIES PROMISED FOR 'RAMONA' PLAY

With assurance from the weather man that clear skies and warm temperatures will prevail in the next few weeks, preparations are being made for the largest attendance at the "Ramona" outdoor play in the history of the famed production which opens April 17 in Ramona Bowl near Hemet and San Jacinto.

For the past three weeks the large cast headed by Victor Jory and Jean Inness has been in rehearsals under the direction of Morris Ankrum. All of the 250 players except the principals are residents of the twin cities which sponsor the celebrated play as a civic, non-profit enterprise.

Romantic Novel
"Ramona" is a play by Garnet Holme based on the romantic novel by Helen Hunt Jackson. It is filled with historic interest and Indian legend. To perpetuate the history depicted in the book, the people of the two cities undertook in 1923 to present a play which would preserve the glamour of the book.

The play is heightened by gay fiesta scenes, exciting native Spanish dances and awesome Indian ceremonials. A chorus of 70 has been in rehearsal for the past two weeks under the direction of George Bergen of the San Jacinto High School, and well known for his direction of chorus work.

Notables to Attend
Many notables from various cities of the Southland have indicated they will attend the opening performance which is the seventieth since the opening in 1923. More than 200,000 persons have witnessed the famed play.

TEN YEARS AWFUL SUFFERING ENDED BY HERBAL GLY-CAS

Mrs. Burrous Had Been Miserable for Ten Years, Unable to Find Relief; Then Gly-Cas Again Proves Unfailing.

"Gly-Cas was the turning point from bad health to good for me," said Mrs. Betti Burrous, 501 West Avenue M, San Angelo, Texas. "The past ten years my health had failed rapidly. Rheumatism settled over my body. Joints and muscles swelled and pained in every part of my body. Rest or sleep at night was impossible; was extremely nervous and often had dizzy spells. Then to make my condition more miserable my kidneys became disordered; up eight and ten times each night and endured a constant pain in the small of my back. At times I was confined to bed, tried all kinds of medicines but grew worse daily. It was terribly discouraging in my condition for all I could see ahead of me was continued suffering — but a short trial of Gly-Cas soon changed all of that."

"My neighbor* who had taken Gly-Cas and advised me to try it was a REAL FRIEND," continued Mrs. Burrous. "It was the turning point of my life for today I am feeling like an entirely different person. When I began to use Gly-Cas I could not walk unassisted and now I get around with ease like anyone else. That dreadful rheumatism has been driven from my body, kidneys are regulated and do not have a single ache or pain and the swelling has gone, too. My appetite is good, dizzy spells ended, sleep fine and it is a real pleasure to be alive feeling as I do today. No wonder everyone seems to be praising Gly-Cas — it is one medicine that is deserving."

Gly-Cas is sold by McCoy Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

"RAMONA" BEGINS 14TH SEASON APRIL 17TH

California's spectacular outdoor play, "Ramona," the exciting dramatic version of Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal love story, will be offered by the people of Hemet and San Jacinto April 17-18, 24-25 and May 1 and 2 in its fourteenth season. Amid scenes of rugged majesty and scenic splendor, the play will be performed by a cast of 250. Top picture, left, shows Victor Jory as Alessandro and Jean Inness as Ramona, the ill-fated lovers; right, part of audience in Ramona Bowl where play is given; lower, left, group of Junior Women's clubs of the twin cities, active in play preparations and right: Janet Scott as Senora Moreno, one of the principal characters.

SEEKS AID FOR LIBRARY WORK

Supervisor Harry D. Riley, of Anaheim, yesterday sought a $600 appropriation of county funds for completing the new county library building at La Habra, but failed to get support of the board for the move.

Changes in WPA regulations has left a deficit in funds to that extent, Riley reported to the board. The building project was arranged under an agreement for La Habra to contribute $2000, in the form of the site; the county to contribute $2000 toward the building, and WPA to contribute $12,000.

Already Pared
With funds to complete the building lacking, La Habra is asking the county to supply the need, Riley said. County Librarian Doris Vents discussed the question of taking the $600 from the library book fund, but objected to further reduction of the fund, which already was pared to the extent of $1800 in the current budget. "Books are our only stock in trade," she pointed out.

Some members of the board suggested that La Habra raise the $600 privately, by entertainment or subscription. The subject was dropped temporarily, but before the board adjourned Riley brought it up again, and made a motion to appropriate $600 from the county General fund.

There was no second to the motion, other members of the board being busily engaged in looking the other way.

The board referred to the district attorney the petition of Yorba school patrons to rescind the proceedings which transferred that district from Piacenta to Yorba Linda district, the courts having ruled that the proceedings had passed beyond jurisdiction of the supervisors. The district attorney was asked to advise the board what it can do about the petition.

FARM SESSION IS SCHEDULED

W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, outlined the provisions of the agricultural conservation program at the Spurgeon school. This was the second of six meetings to be held in the county.

Steven Grisot was selected chairman of the IV District, while A. E. Calvage was chosen vice-chairman and Harry Dady and J. Brooks, community committeemen. Last night Cory outlined the program at the Westminster school. This meeting proved of special interest to beet and bean growers of the district as the farm advisor will explain provisions made for these crops, officials said.

Tonight Cory will outline the provisions of the program at the Fullerton high school music hall. All farms are given a $20 minimum allowance for this soil building program, Cory explained. Additional government grants can be earned beyond this figure.

In the case of orchardists, this program means the planting of specific cover crops, a practice which is followed in many groves.

QUESTIONS ARE ANSWERED BY HIGHWAY CHIEF

At the request of numerous Orange county residents, Capt. H. C. Meehan of the highway patrol, here, today submitted answers to several traffic questions.

"Yes," he said, in answer to a question regarding boulevard stops, "the law requires that every motorist come to a complete stop at a boulevard stop sign."

Other Questions
Other questions and answers as submitted to Captain Meehan are as follows: How close to the curb must a car be parked? Section 588 of the vehicle code says: "Except when loading or unloading merchandise, no person shall leave standing at the curb or edge of a through state highway unless both right wheels of the vehicle are within 18 inches of the curb or edge of such highway."

Is there penalty for person who drives a vehicle while his or her operator's license is suspended or revoked? Yes, such person is guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed one year or by fine not to exceed $1000, or both. Is it lawful to blow your horn in a traffic jam?

No — nor is it courteous.

Provisions Cited
Are horses or bicycles to be controlled under the traffic laws? Section 452 of the vehicle code says, "Every person riding a bicycle or animal upon a highway is subject to the provisions applicable to the driver of a vehicle, except those provisions which, by their very nature, can have no application."

How high and where must speed restriction signs be placed? Not less than four nor more than 10 feet from the ground and shall be placed on the right hand side of the highway at the entrance, there of into such district.

What is indicated by white marks on curbs? White indicates stopping only for loading or unloading of passengers for such time as may be specified by local ordinance.

Is an intoxicated person who drives an automobile causing injury or death to some one, chargeable with a felony? Yes, if when so driving he or she does any act forbidden by law or neglects any duty imposed by law in the driving of such vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person.

Four principal types of camera now are being used by most amateur photographers; box with fitted focus; folding scale; reflex with movable focus scale; reflex with focusing through ground glass; and miniature taking tiny pictures for enlargement.

In the case of orchardists, this program means the planting of specific cover crops, a practice which is followed in many groves.

A Dog, Duck And Hen Are Real Pals!

By GERIE GRIFFITH

Since the days of the wisemen we have heard of triumvirates, but the strangest one of all is down at 721 South Birch street.

A dog, a duck and a hen are fast friends, and have been chums for almost a year. Pal, seven-year-old collie is the leader of this unusual group. Always close at his heels, follows Betsey, year - old Rhode Island hen. Trailing next in line is Cookie, a yearling Mallard duck.

Nibbles on Grass
These three sleep huddled together in a snug box. In the winter, they have the privacy of the back screen porch of their owners, Mr. and Mrs. James P. B. Richards. When spring comes round, they are nestled outside in their private "barn." In the early mornings, Cookie is first to waken the household. Richards first duty, she thinks is to dig up some nice fresh worms for her first meal. Betsey on the other hand, is more modest and nibbles on the green grass of the yard until regular feeding time.

Cookie once had two other chicken friends, and was so sad when they died that she "quacked" after Pal until he permitted her to ride on his back. When Betsey came, some time later, she and Cookie became inseparable. But "three's no crowd among animal friends", so they just moved closer together and made room for one more.

A proof of Betsey's affection for Pal, is noticed in that her "right leg" is drawn up by a slight touch of rheumatism. Mrs. Richards believes that this was incurred from setting next to the dog on the cold cement walk.

Jealousy Never!
Then too, their daily routine Cookie and Betsey, lay eggs together, cackling and quacking all the while. I hope no one ever tells them that one egg is always larger than the other — jealousy must never cause a rift in this friendship. Cookie has an especially manu-

Together these three meet at the gate each day.

COUNTY TO BUY 1,700 TONS OF ROAD SURFACING

Purchase of 1700 tons of oil mix for use in surfacing work on county roads, at a price of $2 per ton, was authorized by the county supervisors late yesterday when Highway Superintendent A. A. Beard reported that the county's materials were too wet to use, and would not be available for a month.

The 1700 tons, to be purchased from the Sparks plant at a figure as cheap as the county itself could produce the material, will last for a month, Beard estimated. Supervisor Steele Finley moved the purchase be made.

Buy Protection
On Beard's recommendation, the board also authorized an appropriation of $450 to purchase safety signal holders, for use by county road crews for their own protection while working on highways.

W. C. Mauerhan, of Katella, reported to the board that Harbor boulevard, in the vicinity of Ball road and south of Manchester boulevard, is cracking badly and about to go to pieces. He asked that repairs be made, and the board promised to look into it.

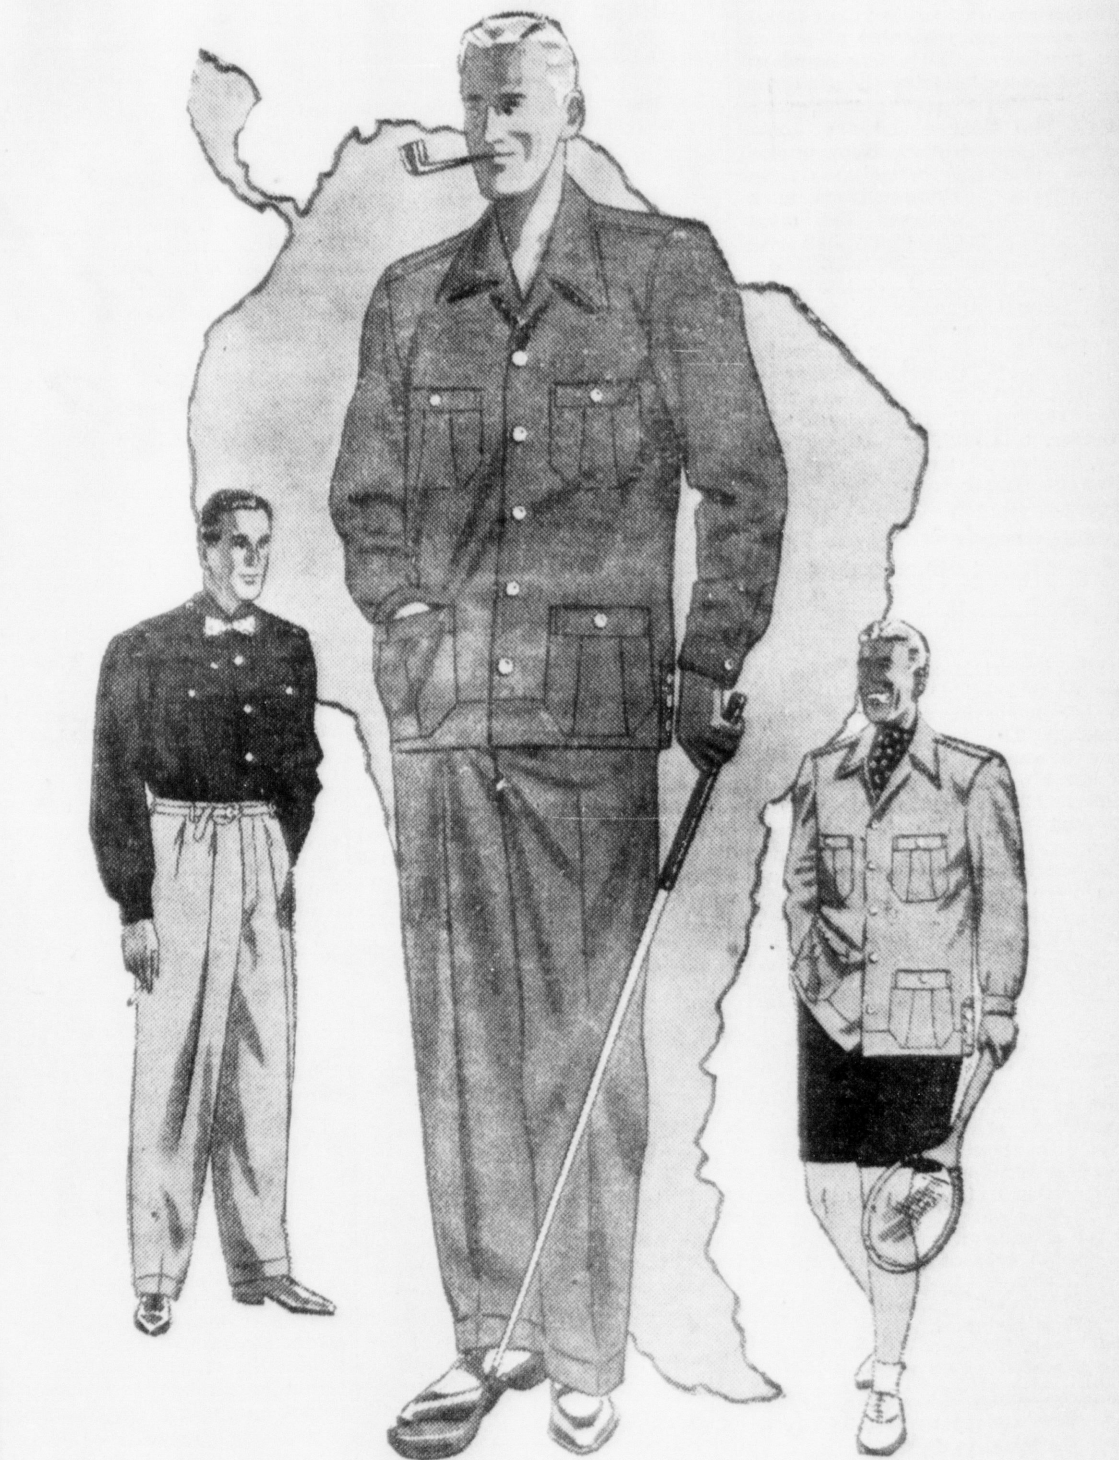

A resolution was passed, authorizing Welfare Director Jack Snow to sell three houses owned by Pedro Hernandez, at Piacenta. Hernandez will assign proceeds of the sale to the county to compensate for relief extended him.

To Call Election

Petitions asking that an election be called in Buena Park water works district, to annex certain territory, were found to be sufficient, after several failures, so the board yesterday passed a resolution authorizing the election.

On motion of Supervisor Finley, the board voted to publish official proceedings of the board for the next three months in the Santa Ana Register.

Hollywood, April 8—IT'S PROBABLY A LITTLE early to talk about it, but here's the dope—"Showboat" drops its title and entire idea and goes Hollywood literally in the not too distant future. Lanny Ross, after October 1, joins another sponsor.

That message was flashed by one of New York's most popular music makers to your correspondent this morning. And it confirms something we've been telling you would happen for some time now.

Tonight, the tenor has Jane Froman as guest. A long time no hear, Jane. Also, you'll get a picture of the National League baseball situation from its president, Ford Frick. (KECA, 8:30)

IF PAUL WHITEMAN were to assemble his old band he'd be unable to cover the payroll. You doubt it? Well, take a look at these figures. Bing Crosby's band draws about $15,000 a week. Benny Goodman gets about $10,000. Henry Busse, $3000. F. de Grofe receives about $3000, and George Shearing, $2000. Whiteman, one time second hand in the neighborhood of $15,000 a week. Lennie Hayton's pay is a few dollars around $3000. Joe Venuti gets $2500. Tommy Dorsey asks and gets $6000. Brother Jimmy, $5000. We're probably forgotten a few of his graduates, you're sure to get the idea.

The Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, with Henri Vedresovsky conducting, plays the Symphony Hour. (KFI, 8:15) suffering from multiple burns

Bing Crosby is just a little befuddled. He had been under the illusion that there was only one Bob Burns on his program. Now he discovers there's another. The Bob Burns at left is trombonist in Jimmy Dorsey's band. (KFI, 7)

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

FIRST OF "MODERN" DRAMATISTS

THE literary world was startled in 1636 by the new form of drama which Pierre Corneille, great French dramatist, introduced in his "Le Cid," love story of Spain's legendary hero. A storm of criticism arose, and Corneille was forced to retire from the public drama for three years.

But when, at the age of 33, this young genius, from whom modern French drama is dated, returned to Paris, he forced upon his former critics his new idea of the three "unities" in stage presentations—time limited to a day, scene to a single locality, and action to a single theme. He wrote other great plays, but soon his literary power declined. He retired to his home in Rouen. Poverty crept upon him and, as he said, he became "satisfied with glory and hungry for money." Two days before he died, in 1684, King Louis XIV sent him some money, but it was too late.

In 1936, on the 300th anniversary of "Le Cid," France issued a stamp picturing Corneille.

The conference reportedly voted to separate itself from the American board of foreign missions which gave birth to the Liberian church a hundred years ago and has nursed it along ever since at an annual cost of many thousands of dollars. The Negroes said they were tired of white men's orders as to how their church should be run and that they would work no longer under control of the white American bishop, the Rev. John Sprunger, who had come from Capetown to conduct the conference.

They attempted to unseat the American bishop in Africa and to put in the chair one of their own number, but they encountered trouble. When they went to select one of the Liberian clergy to become the exalted bishop of the church, they could not agree and broke into violent language.

Finally, when someone raised the question of who would pay the Liberian bishop, if elected, the meeting broke up in confusion, since it was impossible even to pay the ministers of the local churches without American help.

Church Funds To Aid Liberia Upset Negroes

MONROVIA, Liberia—(UP)—The recent conference of the Liberian Methodist Episcopal church broke up in a huff after an effort by the Negro clergy to throw off "American dominance."

—SAVE A LIFE—

AN EMPLOYER'S OBLIGATION

An employer truly has a very important obligation to each one of his employees. As industrial units become larger, it becomes more difficult for the employers to perform this duty which they owe to the employee.

To our mind, it is the duty of every employer to try to develop each of his employees so that the employee can earn the highest possible return for the work he is able to produce. The honest employer is always trying to make every employee more efficient—able to produce more—well knowing that if the employer cannot use this talent that some other employer can.

Every employee should try to associate himself with an employer of this nature. If he believes his employer is not trying to do this—not trying to develop the worker as rapidly as the employer knows how to develop him, then the employee should make every effort to find an employer who will do this.

This is not an altruistic move on the part of the employer because every intelligent employer knows that he can accomplish very little himself and he can only render a service to society by developing as rapidly as possible his employees. He can do practically nothing without an efficient intelligent group of co-workers.

For an employer to recognize this principle and so develop his capable employees so that he is obliged to pay them high wages if he is to retain their services will cost him nothing in the long run because an employer of this nature will be able to secure the choice of help and by this it will not even be costly to him but profitable instead.

It is a short-sighted employer who tries occasionally to take advantage of the employees and keep them back or in ignorance of their real worth, that is standing in his own light. The world is crying for employers who are good managers, good trainers and who can develop men. Would that we had more good employers!

STATEMENT TOO BROAD

In an editorial in Monday night's paper, under the caption, "First Move for Price Control," we made the statement that the administration, when in private business, knew so little about value that all of the enterprises he was connected with and directed the management of went into bankruptcy. We find that this statement is not correct and we accepted it from our informer without checking it.

We find the President was in one or two businesses which did not go into bankruptcy. In 1921, he was connected with the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland which was a company of the highest rate. In 1922, Mr. Roosevelt became president of the United European Investors, Limited, which bought stocks in German companies. It was liquidated in 1924, after making a profit of 200 per cent to its investors.

One of the conspicuous errors in judgment of Mr. Roosevelt was the Camco Company, of which he was director. They issued a prospectus in a stock selling circular setting forth that every dollar invested would earn $1.50 in 1933. The prospectus set forth that the company would earn $2,200,000 in 1929 and increase on up to $18,719,303 in 1933. The actual results were that the loss in 1929 was $458,000 which was the lowest year of their losses and increased up to $1,088,000 and had losses of $756,000 in 1933.

We are sorry to have made the general broad statement because we find that it was not correct as we had been informed.

40-HOUR WEEK IN PARIS

A news dispatch reports that virtually every large store in Paris was closed Monday because of a new 40-hour week regulation imposed by the Blum government.

The writer says: "The powerful newspaper L'Intransigent, hitherto sympathetic with the 'social reforms' of the Blum regime, bitterly attacked the 40-hour week rule, charging enforced suspension of business was tantamount to 'revolution'."

It is always the case that, when the voting majority come into control, they invariably believe their inability to secure what they desire and need is due to the fact that other people are working and producing and they invariably make laws restricting other people from producing.

This is exactly what is proposed to be done in the United States—limit the number of hours that people dare work and produce. It is this kind of legislation that eventually destroys democracy because it so restricts production that people get so disgusted they are willing to give up their liberty in order to have a government that is not so short-sighted.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Twenty years ago this week, the United States entered the World War to make the world safe for democracy.

It is now pretty generally realized that our entering the World War was a mistake. The thing which should interest us in this anniversary is ways and means of keeping us out of any future conflicts that might come about in Europe.

The best way to promote peace is by example—have such a good government here at home that we prevent monopolies and make it possible to continuously have the highest possible standard of living.

THE AMERICAN MOTORIST BILL

In the current issue of The Automotive Industries, it is pointed out that the American motorist paid over ten billion twenty million dollars for automobiles and their maintenance in the year 1936. This, the magazine points out, is about one-sixth of the national income.

It is fine that people can have automobiles and enjoy the wonderful benefits of travel and have an opportunity to see the beauties of nature, get the fresh air and more often visit their friends.

Twenty-five years ago, a very small fraction of the national income was spent on individual transportation. As science, invention and capital make it possible for people to live better, a larger and larger fraction of the national income is spent in other than food and shelter and this part of the desires of men are unlimited.

Would that we could spend many times as much for things that give people as much pleasure, health and comfort as automobiles.

THE CHRYSLER STRIKE SETTLEMENT

The Chrysler strike settlement gives the union the right to represent their members but does not give them the right to represent other members.

No thinking person questions the right of a worker to hire and pay any per cent of his wages that he cares to to another man to represent him to sell his labor. The whole controversy comes from whether the voting majority or any group of labor have the right to bargain for those who do not care to be represented and compel those workers who do not want to contribute to the support of men who create no wealth but only promise wish pictures.

Sooner or later, we will have to learn what we mean when we use the term, "collective bargaining". If it means certain things, it is fine; if it means other things, as Lewis, Greene and Bridges contend, it is slavery. It is a worse form of capitalism than we now have, because it gives those in power the right to force their will on all workers.

RIGHT TO VOTE

Walter Lippmann, in his syndicated article, contends that the right to strike is as fundamental as the right of a citizen to vote.

That statement caused us to wonder whether a citizen has a real fundamental right to vote on certain questions.

We believe that, in the kind of democracy we want and which will permit the highest possible standard of living and the greatest sum total of happiness, the citizen should not be permitted to vote on certain subjects; namely, the question of freedom of worship, freedom of expression, freedom of the right to work and produce and develop himself. We do not believe that we have the right to vote on these acts for any other citizen. The right to vote is limited under the kind of democracy we hope eventually to establish. It is limited just as the right of a king to rule the lives of his subjects is limited. So the promiscuous right to vote is not a fundamental right, as Lippmann says.

PROPOSED STATE LABOR BILL

The State House of Representatives at Sacramento has just passed the Yorty Bill, known as the "Little Wagner Bill."

This bill would establish a labor commission giving it various powers as to contracts between employers and employees. The commissioners would draw $7500 a year.

The public seems to be of the opinion that the employer should not be the judge as to whether he desires to continue his relation with an employee or not; that once he employs a man, he is under moral obligations to keep him.

There is no question but what, everything else being equal, seniority should establish the right for a man to continue his job if he is qualified. The difficulty is that the minute you take away from the employer the right to be the judge and make it obligatory on the employer to prove to a third party, whom it is very difficult to secure and who is 100 per cent impartial and intelligent, then you have added great expense and are very likely to bring about exactly what the law does not intend it to do—that is, make it very difficult for a man to be promoted and get the highest possible wage that our intelligence, efficiency and equipment will permit. There is no question at all but what it would lower the standard of living instead of raising the standard of living.

It is true, of course, there are occasionally employers who discharge competent help for personal reasons but the sooner a man is discharged from this kind of an employer, the better off the employee is in the long run because the employer is not dependable, does not have society as a whole in mind and invariably hurts himself by unfair discharge much more than he hurts the employee.

Under the proposed law, it would be impossible to have free enterprise and it would eventually turn more and more power over to the politicians who have never been efficient in anything and retard the progress of the great mass of workers. It would only make it more difficult for efficient men to get jobs and earn what they could under free enterprise.

Editor Register:

In your editorial of March 2, "Not Logical Conclusion" it would seem that logical conclusions, as you would classify them, are unrelated to facts. The pure unadulterated facts prove, as any lawyer, doctor, or mechanic can quickly tell you, that it costs more to produce ANY skilled tradesman, than to produce an unskilled laborer, the cost of maintenance and expense while training for a trade, constitutes the relative cost of producing a skilled and unskilled laborer, for a given trade.

Most any normal person, with a few days experience and training, can operate a tractor. While it requires some years of training, before any normal person can be trusted to operate a locomotive. Now dear editor, let's quit dealing in generalities and deal in detail awhile. Let's have you name some of the railroad magnates, who through their rare skill, training and judgment, with intelligence and ability so great, they can actually BUILD and OPERATE a railway. Am I mistaken in concluding that draftsmanship, engineering, mechanical and organizational abilities are more deserving than finance, of the credit of building and operation of a railroad?

Am I mistaken in concluding that the draftsmen, engineers, superintendents, railway workers, etc., are the actual BUILDERS and OPER-ATORS of railways, and should have accumulated this fortune, if anyone should have, that you so generously allow to the railroad magnates, with their rare intelligence, skill, training and judgment? You say that you believe that I err when I say that the average railroad workers wage is $900 per year, insisting that I should give the average wage rate per day. Let me ask you, in your opinion, does not the average living standard of the worker depend upon the average real wage that a worker receives in a given year, and not upon what he may receive for any one day of that year?

Realizing that you are a prominent newspaper publisher, and that I am only one of the 35 million workers who depend upon the intelligence and opinion exhibited by our newspaper publishers, for his guidance in the long and short of Pierre Sandrew, but Ronnel Ronnel is a man's man from the toes down, and that's just what makes him so attractive to women, strangely and naturally enough.

That reminds me, Harvey, pop said, Who would you say was the best child actress, Bubbles Bird or Bluebell Kelly? he said, and Harvey said, Why, Bubbles Bird is so superior there's no room for comparison, Bubbles Bird has 13 dimples by actual count, and she can give each one a different meaning at the same time, he said.

You must be counting the 4 dimples on her knees, pop said. Bluebell Kelly has 15 dimples in her face alone, and that's what counts in serious art. And no child actress on the screen can cry real tears like Bubbles Bird. When they roll down her little face at full speed they'd melt hearts of artichoke, he said, and Harvey said, Maybe so, but Bluebell Kelly has a much broader face that holds twice as many tears, and sometimes when she smiles rite in the middle of a cloudburst she's been said to create an authentic rainbow.

Is this going to be an evening of bridge or a minstrel show? Gladys said, and ma said to pop, Willyum for goodness sakes put up the table.

Little Benny's Note Book

My sister Gladis and Harvey came around last nite and ma and Gladis started to talk about who was the best actor in the movies, ma saying, People can say what they please till they're black in the face, but I'll stick to my opinion, I think Ronnel Ronnel has everything.

Give me Pierre Sandrew and you can have all the rest with Ronnel Ronnel thrown in for a bonus, Gladis said. His little French accent just by itself would be enough, but how about those eyes, and how about that certain manner? she said, and ma said, He's effected, that's the long and short of Pierre Sandrew, but Ronnel Ronnel is a man's man from the toes down, and that's just what makes him so attractive to women, strangely and naturally enough.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

RESTLESS YOUNG FOLK

Restless children in their teens, boys and girls alike, give their fathers and mothers an anxious time. They do so much that is silly and wrong, according to adult standards, and what is to be done? They have passed the time when the standards of childhood apply and they have not reached the time when adult's standards can be applied. They refuse to be children and they cannot be adults. They insist upon behaving like children, but they court adult responsibilities they cannot meet. No wonder their parents are sick and worried and unhappy.

One young man of nineteen says he wants to go to college, but he does as little studying as possible to get by. He says he has no particular aim in going to college, just wants to go to say he has been. He goes out at night and drinks a bit with a young man who has too much money and not enough to do. What are his people to do?

It seems to me that when a young man gets into such a rut as this, going along a set line that must end in trouble, the best thing to do with him is to take him out of his present place and set him somewhere else, so that he can form new associations. Sometimes there are relatives or friends at a distance who can help in such situations. Families have been known to swap problems like these for the time of their duration. The thing to do is to break the spell that the child is under—the sooner the better.

Then there is the young girl in her early teens. Too young to go out to dances with young men, too old to be content with childish things, she wants evening gowns, makeup, dances. She cannot have them. She fusses and weeps and bewails her hard lot, her cruel parents. She envies the girls whose parents have given up the struggle and yielded to the clamor of the fledgling. What is to be done with her?

State the situation calmly. After all she is going to live for about sixty years more. There is still time for her to dress and dance and make love. Make her hide her time. Arrange for parties for girls and boys her own age, and keep them youthful and simple. Don't encourage the aping of the silly adult. Try to keep the young person busy. Clubs, athletics, special instruction in some branch of culture, some social service work done under the leadership of a fine woman, all these help.

Above all, teach these young people to be useful. To be sure, if this has been overlooked until the child is in his teens, it is going to be hard to set the idea, but try. Keep pushing work, occupation, usefulness under their noses. Keep placing responsibility upon them whenever possible. And don't assume any of the punishment their own foolishness brings upon them to protect them. That is the way nature trains men, by making them take the consequences of their own mistakes. Try to give as much of that as safety permits to the restless young ones who are crying for the moon.

This stage of growth is hard on the children and harder on their parents. After all there is one comfort! This condition, too, passes.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

STICKTOITIVENESS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Roosevelt is acquiring an inside reputation for relentless persistence. More than one hard-pressed legislator has been moved to recollect in the privacy of the congressional cloakroom recently that not only are the Dutch unbeatable, but their descendants seem to have inherited the same immunity.

It is not so much the President's refusal to bend in the face of the storm against his supreme court plan, although they consider that remarkable. Nor is it entirely his declaration to be moved by the almost unanimous demands of his congressional friends for some action to suppress sit-down strikes, although they also considered that extraordinary.

What has left them limp and befuddled is the news that the White House is reviving the Florida ship canal, which has been defeated by congress and dropped. Also, things are working around toward a revival of the Passamaquoddy project, which was similarly smothered by congress, abandoned and forgotten.

The way things are going, the weary legislators fear they will next be confronted with the World Court adherence, or perhaps the emancipation of slaves. Apparently nothing is ever decided these days until the President wins.

FINESSE

The manner in which the Florida canal was pulled out of the grave and made to walk again has especially encouraged the legislators to believe there is no lasting thing about it.

A report on the canal project was sent to congress last week by War Secretary Woodring, but it happened to arrive just ten minutes after the house adjourned. The messenger left it in the confidential custody of a house clerk, who would not permit newsmen to see it. War officials said they had no extra copies. There was nothing for newsmen to do except to wait until the house reconvened this week before publishing anything about it.

This would have been the ordinary course, but the war secretary decided to give out an announcement stating that the report by General Markham, chief of army engineers, approved the project. This news was published far and wide, until a curious congressman went to the house clerk, while Markham approved, his whose board of engineers heartily disapproved. News-dispensing agencies immediately sent out corrections, but, as usual, the correction failed to smother completely the original story.

One newsmen took Woodring to task, requesting an explanation of the deception. Mr. Woodring explained he had no intention to deceive, but things just happened that way.

OPPOSITION

It is not exactly a secret in the war department that Mr. Woodring is serving at the president's pleasure, and that Chief of Engineers Markham is in a position more susceptible to White House influence than his board of engineers. Board members are technical experts on waterways problems, and have a relatively small knowledge of politics and the ways of Washington.

Their smothered conclusion was that the project would cost $55,000,000 more than their chief, General Markham, reported, and that it could not be justified economically.

General Markham argued that the question of economic justification was a matter of personal opinion, and his personal opinion happened to coincide with Mr. Roosevelt's.

No one around the department will maintain that the technical experts would have been overruled if the president had no feelings on the subject. And yet no one there or elsewhere seems to know why Mr. Roosevelt has taken such a personal interest in the much disputed matter. They understand his interest in Passamaquoddy because his summer home looks out upon that scene. But the proposed Florida canal would not touch Warm Springs.

The only suggestion they have been able to offer is the unsatisfactory one that the president favors it because there is so much opposition.

UNDERTONE

Only those who follow the voice of the people professionally noticed it, but the detailed Michigan returns did not seem to be as satisfactory to the advocates of sit-down strikes as the general results.

For example, in four counties outside Detroit, which have been the centers of General Motors strikes or where G. M. is big, went Republican. The factory cities of these counties are Flint, Lansing, Pontiac and Saginaw.

Likewise, in Flint, the C. I. O. leaders worked for three candidates to the board of education, one of whom happened to be a strike leader. All three lost.
